

*AFRICA VALORIZATION AND TECHNOLOGY TRANSFER NETWORK
(AVTTN)*

A SAFE AND STRONG WORLD ECONOMY MEANS ALSO A HEALTHIER AFRICA!

It is a well established fact that Africa is very rich! Certainly, unvalorized richnesses (abundant natural resources as well as Human potentials), mismanagement (corruption, crippled leadership and short politics) and conflicts could lead to a general state of poverty. This is very dramatic. In this very 21st century with the resurgence of open innovation and globalization ideologies (i.e. socialization of science and technology, perhaps, politic!) along with all the powerful and available technologies and scientific progresses, we could wonder why and how this situation is enduring?

Do we have the power to abolish all forms of human poverty on earth? Surely not, but we can alleviate it everywhere. In fact, life is worth it when great challenges threaten human survival, skills and endeavours. Nevertheless, we should never give up the fight. United in the struggled, we should defend the whole life and strive for a better future. Tsunami, earthquake, flood ..all natural disasters should not wipe away our commitment to life. I acknowledge that human self made poverty is the greatest tragedy, but it could and should be defeated!

Many aggregated factors have led and continue to deepen and take ownership of these discrepancies and paradoxes of development between African nations and the rest of the world. These facts call, not only, on the genuine responsibilities of Africans themselves, but today, the whole interconnected human society intelligentsia, in order to temper poverty, conflicts, injustice and mass emigration. The rape of millions of women and proliferation of refugee camps and heavy armaments is not humanitarian, but witness a general world leadership failure. Indeed, the present problematic is a whole world leadership concern and challenges because still unsolvable and dormant. Known and widespread business models, plethora development theories, abundant leadership strategies..., all seem to crystallize before Africa realms and dilemma. A severe imbroglio is rooting deeply and handicapping the birth of youth and genuine human being potential! It is a real waste; it is a dramatic regression! It is paradoxical!

Certainly, the gate to social innovation endeavours is broadly open to those who seek to overcome world development unevenness and challenges throughout engaged and non corrupted skills and leadership. Third worlds, underdeveloped and emerging countries are all paradigms witnessing a general leadership failure to overcome or alleviate discrepancies or abnormalities in the world. In these, rest all the challenges of social innovation and technology valorisation and transfer! Plethora definitions or paradigms demonstrate that the problems are been identified but lethargy in genuine and productive action remains vivid.

At AVTTN we would like to emphasise on genuine dynamic strategy avenues to tackle these discrepancies between nations by promoting engaged valorisation activities throughout social networking (sharing useful ideas) and technology transfer as main tools to alleviate or curve development paradoxes on the continent. Moreover, we call on genuine political and scientific leaderships to assess these discrepancies to allow the rebirth of new and competitive African society. A safe and strong world economy means also a healthier Africa. All nations are linked through the sacred bond of life.
